storm for years prevailed all night and in most places it is still snowing. Snow fell from 15 to 18 inches and travel is greatly impeded. Many trains are entirely suspended, and the highways are practically impassable. A dispatch from Bellows Falls, Vt. says a solid block-ade of snow exists in all directions today. There was previously about two feet on the ground and last night's fall of snow added eighteen inches to previous amount. Bridgeford, Maine, reports that the roads everywhere are blockaded, and up to 11 o'clock no train had passed there over either division of the Maine and Boston railway. The morning express, which left Portland at 7:30, is snowed up near Old Orenard. Help has been elegraphed for and engines and snow plows sent from Portland.
